Alex's Blog

I'm sitting with a friend in my bedroom and we're watching a fantasy film. It's the first Harry Potter film. I don't know why, but I really want Voldemort to win, not the good guys. Is something wrong with me?

Reply

Sometimes, we like the bad guys in films. There isn't anything wrong with that. The bad guys give us positive feelings about ourselves. Their lives, like ours, aren't perfect. Sometimes, we don't like the bad guys' actions, but we like their personalities. They are often fascinating, and it's fun to watch them do exciting things. So, we can continue to love bad guys but feel good about ourselves. The good guys usually win in the end anyway.

The Baikal Ice Marathon

The Baikal Ice Marathon is one of the most difficult marathons in the world. It takes place every winter at Lake Baikal, in Russia. The temperature there in winter is usually below 0°C, but in windy weather, it can fall to -19°C. The athletes run 42.2 kilometres over ice on the lake. In some areas, the ice is very thin, so the athletes follow a special route. The run isn't as interesting as other marathon routes because the runners only see ice and snow. Also, the athletes can't run very fast! The best time for the ice marathon record is 2 hours and 56 minutes. This is slower than the record of 2 hours and 35 minutes for other marathons.
