

THE CARRIAGE

One night in Madrid two twenty-year-old girls took the metro to go to a hotel. It was 3 a.m. and there were not any people or cars in the street.

While they were waiting for the metro a shadow of something appeared. It seemed like a clown, the two girls were scared but they did not give it much importance. While they were waiting they started hearing very scary noises. Finally the train came.

When they were inside they could see that there was a person at the end of the carriage. The person was running to KILL THE GIRLS!! The "person" was a clown.

The clown tried to kill the girls with a very big knife. The girl called Stela could escape but her whole body was covered in blood. She called the police.

The police came but as it was Halloween, they thought that it was a joke so they left.

The girl called Soraya (the other girl) to make sure that she was dead. SHE TOOK THE PHONE!!! but ...

It was a videocall, the clown was showing the body of Soraya. SHE WAS DEAD!!

Stella could see that there was something on the floor written with blood. "Now I'm going to kill you, ha!".

Stella looked behind her and finally the clown got her and killed her ...

This is a story that happened in Madrid, be careful because the clown is still there waiting for the people that have read this.

You cannot escape from this, be careful if you go there. "I'm going to see you HAHHAHA!!
